

Welsh Cakes

Ingredients

100g mixed butter
and lard

225g self-raising flour

a pinch of salt

75g caster sugar

75g currants

1/2 tsp. honey

1 medium egg, beaten

Equipment

large wooden spoon

large bowl

electric whisk

griddle pan

cooling rack

sieve

Method

1. In a bowl, rub the fats into the flour and salt until the mixture resembles breadcrumbs.
2. Stir in the sugar, currants, mixed spice and honey.
3. Add the beaten egg and mix in to form a firm dough.
4. On a floured board, roll or pat the mixture until about 5-10mm thick.
5. Cut into discs and griddle over a medium heat until golden brown on both sides.
6. Dust the Welsh cakes with caster sugar and eat immediately. Some people like to split them and have them with cream and preserves.

We hope you find the information on our website and resource useful. The description of any food or drink preparation or consumption activity contained within this resource is intended as a general guide only. It may not fit your specific situation. You should not rely on the resource to be right for your situation. It is your responsibility to decide whether to carry out the activity at all and, if you do, to ensure that the activity is safe for those participating. You are responsible for carrying out proper risk assessments on the activities and for providing appropriate supervision. We are not responsible for the health and safety of your group or environment so, insofar as it is possible under the law, we cannot accept liability for any loss suffered by anyone undertaking the activity or activities referred to or described in this resource. It is also your responsibility to ensure that those participating in the activity are able to do so and that you or the organisation you are organising it for has the relevant insurance to carry out the activity. It is also your responsibility to note that ingredients or materials used might cause allergic reactions or health problems and to ensure that you are fully aware of the allergies and health conditions of those taking part. If you are unsure, always speak to a suitably qualified health professional.