

Beaufront First School

Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND) Policy

School/setting beliefs and values around SEND

- Provision for children with SEND is the responsibility of the whole school and every member of staff accepts and embraces this responsibility even when those pupils may be supported by specialist staff.
- We recognize the need to work in partnership with parents and value the contribution parents make to their child's education. Children also contribute their views on the provision provided.
- We recognize the individuality of each child and strive to help them to achieve their full potential. Every child is valued regardless of race, culture or religious beliefs and whatever their abilities or needs.
- All children have the ability to learn and progress and we work to provide an environment where all children are valued, their potential nurtured and their achievements celebrated.

Beaufront First School SENDCO (Clause 64 Children and Families Bill 2014) is Mrs Eileen Daniel who is also the Headteacher. (Ref: Role of the SENDCO in Schools Code of Practice 6:89)

SEND Policy

Introduction

Beaufront First School promotes high standards. All pupils, regardless of their particular needs, are offered inclusive teaching, which enables them to make the best possible progress and develop as valued members of our school community. We offer a range of provision to support children with additional needs (e.g. communication and interaction, cognition and learning difficulties, social, mental and health problems or sensory or physical needs). We have high expectations of all children and staff and we believe that it is the entitlement of each child to have the opportunity to achieve his/her full potential.

Compliance

This policy complies with the statutory requirements for schools that are laid out by Northumberland County Council for children with SEND.

Definition of SEND

The Special Education and Disability Code of Practice: 0-25 years (2014) states:

- Xiii A child or young person has SEN if he or she has a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her.*
- Xiv A child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty or disability if he or she:*
- has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age, or*
 - has a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or mainstream post-16 institutions*

The definition of disability in the Equality Act (2010) states children with ‘...a physical or mental impairment which has a long-term (more than 12 months) and substantial adverse effect on their ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities’. This includes children with sensory impairments as well as long-term health conditions such as asthma, diabetes, epilepsy and cancer.

It also states that schools must make reasonable adjustments, including the provision of auxiliary aids and services, to ensure that disabled children and young people are not at a substantial disadvantage compared with their peers.

Broad Areas of Need (See Appendix 1)

There are four broad areas of need:

- Communication and Interaction
- Cognition and Learning
- Social, Emotional and Mental health difficulties
- Sensory and/or Physical Needs

Children with identified SEND have their needs met with additional support as required either within school or in collaboration with specialized external agencies. Children with SEND are taught and managed sensitively promoting their inclusion in school activities and promoting independence. All children have access to a challenging curriculum, which is broad, balanced, relevant and differentiated.

When additional specialist advice and support becomes necessary beyond the capacity of our school, we contact the appropriate external agencies and work closely to promote the child's well being and development. Our Local Offer provides further information about the agencies that we work with.

Identification of SEND

A key principle of the Code is avoiding delay in any necessary SEND provision in early years. Delay at this stage can result in learning difficulty and subsequent loss of self-esteem, frustration in learning and aggravate behavioural difficulties. For example, it is important not to assume a lack of progress or a specific difficulty is due to a developmental delay that will “right itself”.

The Code states that:

“Early action to address identified needs is critical to the future progress and improved outcomes that are essential in helping the child to prepare for adult life”.

Some children arrive at our school with identified SEND, in which case the SENDCO/ Headteacher will liaise with the previous school, nursery or setting to ensure a smooth transition and continuity of provision.

If, during a child’s time at our school, teachers have concerns about pupil progress or attainment, parents will be contacted to discuss these concerns and share their views.

Areas of concern (including context and examples,) the parents comments following discussions, and the agreed actions will be recorded in a short note.

There will be period of monitoring and review, including an analysis of the child’s progress compared with peers, national data and expectations of progress.

Following this, and in consultation with all relevant staff at school the child (if appropriate) and the child’s parents, a child may be identified as having SEND and appropriate provision will be made.

If parents have any concerns about their child they should contact their class teacher in the first instance. Alternatively, they may make an appointment to see the SENDCO / Head Teacher.

Many children may be subject to this period of monitoring and review for a short time, receiving time-limited and targeted interventions until they have progressed sufficiently to work at age-related expectations.

SEND Provision

Where a child is identified as having SEND, we work in partnership with parents to establish the level of support needed. Following discussions with all relevant parties, including healthcare professionals if necessary, the child's needs are recorded and decisions made about the desired outcomes, including expected progress and attainment for that child. The views and wishes of the child and their parents are central to these discussions.

An Intervention and Support Plan is written, implemented and reviewed at least termly. This will aim to remove barriers to learning and put effective special provisions in place. Parents are invited to discuss this plan; their child's progress and the support and targets offered. Class teachers and the SENDCO will be available for further discussion by appointment through the school office.

We adopt a graduated approach with four stages of action: assess, plan, do and review.

- Assess

In identifying a child needing SEN support, the early years practitioner/ class teacher, working with the SENDCO, the child (if appropriate), and the child's parents, carries out an analysis of the child's needs. This assessment draws on the teacher's assessment and experience of the child, their previous progress and attainment, as well as any other available information (rate of progress, attainment, and behaviour etc.). This assessment should be reviewed regularly. In some cases, outside professionals from health or social services may already be involved with the child. With the agreement of the parents, these professionals should liaise with the school to help inform the assessments.

- Plan

Following a decision to provide additional / SEN support, and having formally notified the parents, the practitioner / class teacher and the SENDCO agree, in consultation with the parent, the desired outcomes. Interventions and/or support are put in place, the expected impact on progress, development or behaviour, and a clear date for review recorded. All teachers and support staff who work with the child are made aware of their needs, the outcomes sought, the support provided and any teaching strategies or approaches that are required. This should also be recorded on the school's information system. (Yearly interventions grid)

- Do

The early years practitioner/ class teacher remains responsible for working with the child on a daily basis. With support from the SENDCO, they oversee the implementation of the interventions or programmes agreed as part of additional / SEN support. Where the interventions involve group or one-to-one teaching away from the main class teacher, they should still retain responsibility for the child. The SENDCO should support the practitioner /class teacher in assessing the impact of the action taken, in problem solving and advising on the effective implementation of support.

- Review

The effectiveness, impact and quality of the support / interventions is reviewed, in line with the agreed date, by the practitioner / class teacher and SENDCO, taking into account the child's parents and the child's views. This should feedback into the analysis of the child's needs. Support is revised in light of the child's progress and development, and the practitioner/class teacher and SENDCO will amend the support and outcomes accordingly. Parents should have clear information about the impact of the support and interventions provided, enabling them to be involved in planning next steps.

This cycle of action is revisited regularly. At agreed times parents are engaged with the setting, and contributing to assessment and planning. Intended outcomes are shared and reviewed with the child (if appropriate) and parent as well as the school.

Beaufront School's graduated approach to SEN

Level 1: Quality First Teaching (QFT)

Children receive inclusive quality first teaching at Beaufront which may include the provision of differentiated classwork. Some children at this level may be on a monitoring list, their progress being carefully tracked and reviewed.

Documentation: short note

Level 2: Additional School Intervention (ASI)

Continued or increased concern may lead to children receiving additional, time-limited and targeted interventions to accelerate their progress to age-related expectations. These interventions may involve group or 1:1 teaching. The SENDCO and class teachers will work closely with any support staff to plan and assess the impact of the support and interventions and to link them to classroom teaching. At this stage advice from other agencies may be sought.

Documentation: Intervention and support plan

Level 3: High Need (HN)

Where a child continues to make less than expected progress, despite interventions, he or she will receive highly personalised interventions to accelerate progress and enable achievement of their potential. When appropriate, specialist outside agencies will support interventions.

The SENDCO and class teachers work with specialists to select effective teaching approaches, appropriate equipment, strategies and interventions to support the child's progress. If support is not impacting on the child's progress and this is still of significant concern, the school, after consultation with parents and other professionals, will request an Education, Health and Care Needs Assessment from the Local Authority. Parents can also request an EHC Needs Assessment.

Home School Partnership

At Beaufront First School we recognise that parents know their children best. Parents are always welcome to discuss their child, their views are respected and their concerns taken into consideration at all stages of the SEND procedure.

All parents and /or carers are invited to meet with their child's class teachers regularly in either formal (Autumn first half term and Spring first half term) or informal "drop in" sessions in other half terms (Autumn 2 and Spring 2) as well as receiving an annual report at the end of the Summer term.

There are a number of additional opportunities for parental education and involvement including regular parent workshops and curriculum events.

Parents of children identified as having SEND are also invited to a further consultation once a term at which their child's progress, Intervention and Support Plan detailing the additional support, interventions and targets are discussed and agreed.

Pupil Views

Children's views matter to us.

All children are aware of their termly targets and are encouraged to self-review. As part of the review process, SEND pupils are asked about their views on their strengths, the potential areas for development and support they would like to receive.

For their annual review children with Statements of SEND or EHCPs are asked more formally about their views, their learning, their targets and the support and interventions they are given by a member of the Inclusion Team.

To ensure the most effective SEND provision, the SENDCO has the following procedures in place:

- Termly meeting with the Governor responsible for SEND.
- Half termly meetings with all Class Teachers to discuss children on the SEND register and their provision, as well as further meetings and discussion as required.
- Pupil progress meetings
- Regular meetings with the Teaching Assistants.
- When required meetings with our dyslexia Specialist Teacher and our 1:1 tutor (literacy consultant)

Staff Development:

The school is committed to providing INSET and staff development and SEND is a regular part of this. We monitor, review and develop all teachers and support staff's understanding of strategies to identify and support pupils with SEND.

Complaints

We aim to resolve all problems informally. In the first instance we would aim for discussion with the SENDCO/Headteacher to seek resolution. We have an open door policy and hope that parents/carers and others within the school community will feel free to discuss any concerns with the SENDCO/Headteacher or the SEND School Governor (Rachel Coan).

The school complaints policy sets out the procedure in event of any complaint.

Conclusion:

Beaufront First School aims to support all children, including those with SEND, in the attainment of his or her full potential. The partnership between home and school is highly valued and children's views are sought and listened to.

Appendix 1 Broad areas of need From Code of Practice (0-25) 2014

Communication and interaction

- . 6.28 Children and young people with speech, language and communication needs (SLCN) have difficulty in communicating with others. This may be because they have difficulty saying what they want to, understanding what is being said to them or they do not understand or use social rules of communication. The profile for every child with SLCN is different and their needs may change over time. They may have difficulty with one, some or all of the different aspects of speech, language or social communication at different times of their lives.
- . 6.29 Children and young people with ASD, including Asperger's Syndrome and Autism, are likely to have particular difficulties with social interaction. They may also experience difficulties with language, communication and imagination, which can impact on how they relate to others.

Cognition and learning

- 6.30 Support for learning difficulties may be required when children and young people learn at a slower pace than their peers, even with appropriate differentiation. Learning difficulties cover a wide range of needs, including moderate learning difficulties (MLD), severe learning difficulties (SLD), where children are likely to need support in all areas of the curriculum and associated difficulties with mobility and communication, through to profound and multiple learning difficulties (PMLD), where children are likely to have severe and complex learning difficulties as well as a physical disability or sensory impairment.
- 6.31 Specific learning difficulties (SpLD), affect one or more specific aspects of learning. This encompasses a range of conditions such as dyslexia, dyscalculia and dyspraxia.

Social, emotional and mental health difficulties

- . 6.32 Children and young people may experience a wide range of social and emotional difficulties which manifest themselves in many ways. These may include becoming withdrawn or isolated, as well as displaying challenging, disruptive or disturbing behaviour. These behaviours may reflect underlying mental health difficulties such as anxiety or depression, self-harming, substance misuse, eating disorders or physical symptoms that are medically unexplained. Other children and young people may have disorders such as attention deficit disorder, attention deficit hyperactive disorder or attachment disorder.
- . 6.33 Schools and colleges should have clear processes to support children and young people, including how they will manage the effect of any disruptive behaviour so it does not adversely affect other pupils. The Department for Education publishes guidance on managing pupils' mental health and behaviour difficulties in schools – see the References section under Chapter 6 for a link.

Sensory and/or physical needs

- . 6.34 Some children and young people require special educational provision because they have a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of the educational facilities generally provided. These difficulties can be age related and may fluctuate over time. Many children and young people with vision impairment (VI), hearing impairment (HI) or a multi-sensory impairment (MSI) will require specialist support and/or equipment to access their learning, or habilitation support. Children and young people with an MSI have a combination of vision and hearing difficulties. Information on how to provide services for deafblind children and young people is available through the Social Care for Deafblind Children and Adults guidance published by the Department of Health (see the References section under Chapter 6 for a link).
- . 6.35 Some children and young people with a physical disability (PD) require additional ongoing support and equipment to access all the opportunities available to their peers.
